This book is a history of Darwin's (Palmerston) first gazetted cemetery. It lists known occupants, with some detailed stories of their histories. There is also over 1,000 names taken from the Burial Register as well as all those known to have died in the area. The latter list is reproduced with the permission of the Registrar of Births Deaths and Marriages at Darwin.

"DEBNAM INDEX"

The Late Lawrie Debnam of South Australia compiled the following indices to assist him in his studies of men in the Northern Territory Police. Lawrie allowed these indices to be microfiched and copied thus enabling researchers to benefit from his many years of effort.

Up to 1911 the Northern Territory was administered from South Australia.

NORTHERN TERRITORY PROBATES INDEX ON MICROFICHE WAS COMPILED BY THE LATE LEN COSSONS, LEN WAS A RETIRED NORTHERN TERRITORY ASSISTANT POLICE COMMISSIONER AND A RECIPIENT OF THE QUEEN'S POLICE MEDAL. THESE MICROFICHE ARE PUBLISHED BY GSNT

Confusion exists with some researchers because the Register dates overlap one another (1911 - 1941, 1911 - 1960, 1911 - 1976). It is uncertain as to why one continuous Register was not kept instead of three Registers. An insignificant amount of duplications of names occurs within the three Registers.

What must be kept in mind and is crucial to understanding the Northern Territory Probates, is the File numbering system eg File E96 covers Grants of Probates and Administration Register for 1911 - 1941, yet file E97 covers Registers 1911 - 1960 which are overlapping years. There are gaps in the first file mentioned and therefore they are covered in the second file mentioned. From 1928 onwards Probates appearing in these Registers can be cross checked for additional information in the Annual Single Collection using the reference number and year.

The Annual Single Series was the filing system used in Government offices at this time, this system was also used for Probate records. A file was raised for each individual Probate, it was given a unique number for that year eg 46/10 means in 1946 this was the tenth file raised. The Probate Index on microfiche is arranged in two different sorts. The alphabetical sort is by surname giving the reference number to the Annual Single File number. Each Probate file was searched for all names mentioned and these are included in the numerical sort against the Annual Single File number, so once you have the file reference you then have a list of all people mentioned in that particular probate record.

PROBATE SERIES CONSISTS OF PROBATE REGISTERS AND ANNUAL SINGLE SERIES

At first glance the Probate series seems confusing because of the way in which the records were kept, it can be seen that the years for the REGISTERS overlap one another. EG REGISTERS are listed for the years 1911-1941, 1911-1960, 1911-1976. It is uncertain as to why one continuous REGISTER was not kept instead of the three REGISTERS. An insignificant amount of duplications of names occurs within the three REGISTERS.

What must be kept in the mind and is crucial to understanding the Northern Territory Probates, is the File numbering system eg File E96 covers Grants of Probates and Administration REGISTER for 1911 - 1941 yet file E97 covers years REGISTERS 1911 - 1960 which are overlapping years. There are gaps in the first file mentioned and therefore they are covered in the second file mentioned. The Genealogical Society had no alternative but to produce the index as we have been given access to it. From 1928 onwards Probates appearing in these REGISTERS can then be cross checked for additional information in the Annual Singles Collection using the reference number and the year.

The Annual Single Series is a file raised for each individual Probate, it is given a unique number for that year eg 46/10 means in 1946 this was the tenth file raised. Each file has been searched and all names mentioned are included in the index. The alphabetical list within the Annual Single Series gives the name of deceased with a reference number.

Once you have the reference number you can then go to the numerical listing which shows all names mentioned in a particular probate.

Essentially the REGISTER for 1911-1976 is the master list for the Annual Singles Collection which covers the period 1928 - 1976.

Probate Index consists of:-

1881 – 1940 Northern Territory Census, Electoral Rolls & Directories
This CD contains three previously published Censuses for 1881, 1891 and 1901, plus Electoral Rolls & Directories, which may help to trace those who made the Territory their home. Tracking the person through these records may also help in determining whether you should continue your search in the Northern Territory or try elsewhere. Some came to the Territory to escape their responsibilities or to remain elusive to family.
