Issue 24

August 2009

NEWSLETTER

Featuring Line dances done around W.A during JULY

WELCOME to issue 24 Well what can I say... Amame... Amame ... Amame... it's on top again, yes it's shared top spot a couple of times but that's still 5 issues in a row, that its been in the top seat. How much longer can it rein before its pipped at the post, maybe by Human Dancer???, or perhaps something new... who knows

Looking for something easy and perhaps a little different??? Take a look at this little one that's popped up on our front page this issue... Slumdog by Amy Christian-Sohn (also choreographer of the cheeky but popular Don't Cha Wish) Slumdog is a very easy beginner alternative to J Ho, and if you get the Indian arms movements going, it is also a fun upper-body workout. To see how to do the arm movements take a look at Amy's YouTube clip (Slumdog-J Ho-Arm Parts)

Talking about beginner splits, you may also like to take a look at a couple of Alison Johnstone's new dances. Chasing Rodeo-First Steps for the beginners & Chasing Rodeo for the intermediates, both sheets are now available on WA Choreography Page (more info page 6).

Thanks again to all those who remembered to send in their lists, before to long it will be time to do it again. Please don't forget Your next list is due by the 10th of September and should contain what dances you taught/revised etc.. during August.

Till next time... Keep on dancing

Regards Tina

The dancing section is coordinated by members of DanceSport Australia. They offer events for several styles of dance, and we are lucky that Line Dancing is being offered again.

In addition to Line Dancing, there are dance events available for DanceSport (Standard, Latin, New Vogue) Social Ballroom, New Vogue, Latin, Rock & Roll, Salsa, Argentine Tango, and Ceroc... So it will be a fun filled day for both Spectators and Competitors alike.

AUG Dance Lists
Due By: 10th SEPT

The idea of this Newsletter is to get a good reference as to what dances are being taught & danced around WA

If you know of other groups that may like to be involved, who have not received a copy, please send me their details.

The more info on what dances your students like to do the better, so include new dances, revised dances, requested dances, anything you danced in class during the past month.

Perhaps even review your new dances, I'm sure other instructors would be interested to know if your class found the new dance, hard or easy, loved it or hated it etc..
