

Tournament of Minds

On Saturday the 30th August, two teams of seven Year 6 and 7 students competed against other schools from all sectors in the Tournament of Minds at UWA. Our students chose to tackle the Language Literature problem where an author had lost his memory and was in need of help from the characters created by the author to help him recover it. One team chose Shakespeare and the other C.S. Lewis. They had ten minutes in which to present their dramatization and convince the judges that they had done it all with out any adult assistance. Thanks must go to Mrs Bev Jackson-Hooper for assisting with the training of the students in spontaneous thinking and drama. Our teams presented themselves so professionally and oosed enthusiasm for the process. It is always so rewarding to see students from different year levels working our problems and acknowledging each others talents.
